true colors kaleidoscope

Rainbows of color distinguish each and every one of us. The shades of cardinal, orange, blue, gold, and emerald tint our many personalities. These pigments bring life and vitality to our years at BHS, coloring the very school that we attend. We all contain spirals of color, our own kaleidoscopes, which proves that life is like a box of crayons. Through our interactions with each other, we gain cardinal knowledge that will serve us throughout life. Beyond the classroom, we explore our individuality through activities as different as apples and oranges. Although all unique, we are unified by a true blue spirit. This pushes us to go for the gold, stretching our own capabilities. All the while, we are surrounded by our community, the emerald city, which supports us as we grow and mature. This world, composed of every hue imaginable, is where we acquire our own true colors.

PEOPLE

life is like a box of crayons

This year BHS was met with hundreds of new faces. Nineteen new teachers and administrators joined the staff. With all these changes came a familiar routine. Sleep-deprived students and faculty rose early in the morning, making their ways through seas of classes, tests, essays, meetings, practices, lessons, and homework. At the end of the day, everyone returned home to prepare for another hectic day.

We've Got Tonight

Who Needs Tomorrow

After months of term papers, tests, SAT's, and homework, students needed an escape valve to release all their built up stress and anxiety. The Braintree High School Junior Prom provided the perfect opportunity.

The evening of May 13, 2000, arrived with much anticipation. After months of tedious preparation by the Junior Prom Committee, all their hard work and perseverance paid off. Judging by the content faces, the event was a success. The pit was transformed into a striking scene of dark purple, lavender, and silver colored stars, balloons and streamers. Many students were amazed at the transformation of the Pit. The decorations were perfect, the food was delicious, and the music was fantastic thanks to Bill Wilkinson.

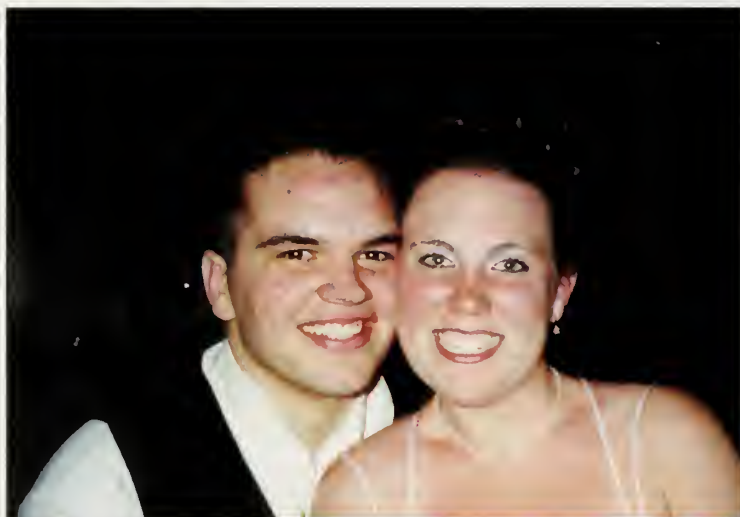

It was an unforgettable night.

What made the 2000 Junior Prom so distinct was the fact that no other Junior class at Braintree High School can ever have a prom in the Pit again. The class of 2001 was the last Junior class to dance the night away in the Pit. It can no longer be used for proms.

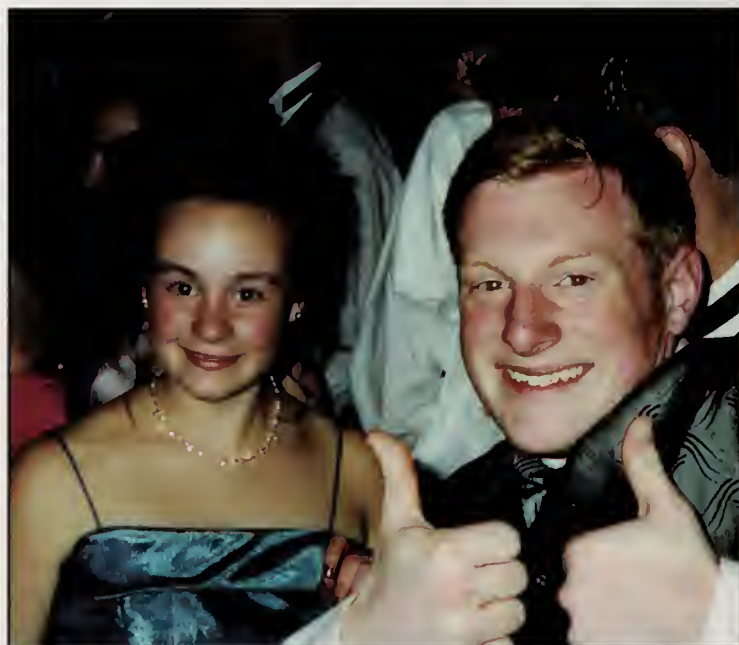

As the prom song, "We've Got Tonight," was played, many students were sad that it was almost over. The stress of preparing for the prom, however, faded away as exhausted promgoers piled into their limos and headed for their chosen destinations

TOP TEN

YOU KNOW YOU ARE A FRESHMAN WHEN...

1. Your backpack weighs more than you do.
2. You have every keychain you ever bought hooked on your backpack.
3. You ask for directions 5 minutes after the bell rang because you thought you knew where you were.
4. Halfway through the year you remember you had a locker assigned to you in the beginning of the year, so you decide to go look for it.
5. Walk down the wrong side of the hallway or stairs.
6. You never go to your locker because you are afraid of seniors.
7. You dress up for the first day of school.
8. You buy all your school supplies before the first day and then realize you need all new ones.
9. You carry all your books in a big LLBean backpack.
10. You carry all your books to class.

What Was Up With the PIT?

It was a place where we hung out, danced, did homework, and sat to watch the fast-paced world go by. It became a symbol of BHS. Why in the world would an architect design a huge hole in the center of the front foyer of a school building? What was on his mind?

What was the original purpose of the pit?

Here are some speculations from the student body.

The pit was to be ...

"A theater-in-the-round"

-Melissa Goldman

"A swimming pool"

-Theresa Dyzak

"Something that is architecturally interesting"

-Jim Flowers

"A copy of a sixties entertainment pit"

-Laura Eckelmen

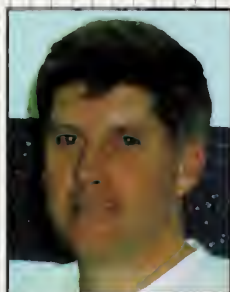

"A place for the christmas tree"

-Jennifer Yang

"A place to fill with Jello, of course"

-Kim Olson

So You Want To Be A Movie Star?

What movie star do want to be? We asked this to some students and here are some of their answers...

I would want to be...

"TOM CRUISE"

"A RICH ONE"

"GWENYTH PALTROW"

"OPRAH"

"WISHBONE"

"ADAM SANDLER"

"BRITNEY SPEARS"

"MEL GIBSON"

"KEVIN BACON"-
THEN EVERYONE WOULD BE LINKED TO ME

"LUCY LUI"

"CHEVY CHASE"

Tube Time

We all know that watching TV is as much an American pastime as baseball is. But the thing is, it's hard to always catch a new episode of any show everytime you turn on the TV. So we set out to find which TV rerun is most watched by the people in this school. It turns out that many of you tune into the Simpsons on a regular basis, and have seen most of the shows more than once. Here is a list of the TV shows we all love to watch.

One in a Million

There are 112 million households in the United States, and 278 million people. 1,350 of these people are students at Braintree High and 300 are staff members. Have you ever wondered how many other people in the United States watch the same tv shows, buy the same music, and read the same magazines as you do? Well if you have, we've got your answers.

Music To Our Ears

Music touches our lives in many ways. It gives us an escape from the world around us, allowing us to relax and forget our problems. Given the choice of Rap, Pop, R&B, Rock, Alternative, Country, Classical, or Dance/Techno, what kind of music would you choose as your favorite? We recently asked this to some students, and their answers were varied. But among the results we received it turns out that the most popular kind of music at Braintree High School is rap. Whether you agree or not, rap has definitely made a impact on some students' lives. Here is the results of our survey....

Rap-30%

Pop-10%

R&B- 9%

Alternarive-10%

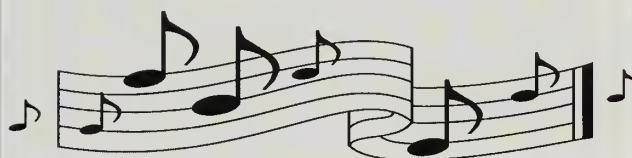

Rock-20%

Country- 3%

Classical-3%

Dance/Techno- 6%

Everything-9%

Now that we know your favorite kind of music, what's your favorite band or music group? Once again it was proven that the music al tastes in our school are different. Some people stated that they liked a more modern groups while others came back with answers saying that they loved the timeless bands of past decades. Given the fact that most students like rap, it was suprising to find very few students answered this question with a rap artist. It turns out that the most popular band in our survey was none other than Dave Matthews Band. Listed below is a sample of the different artists and groups that students here at BHS enjoy.

I used to dance with you
Cradled in my arms.
You were my precious angel
when I held you close,
love overwhelmed me
Now you are a man
There are days when I still long to cradle you in my arms and dance with you again. Although I miss my little boy I am so proud of the man you are and of who you will become. As we grow older and memories fade, please never forget these words that you were once so small to remember:

Dear members of the BHS Class of 2001,

As you move forward in your life after Braintree High School, we sincerely hope that the years you have spent with us have prepared you well for your journey into adulthood.

Your class has been special for many reasons; however, the reason I will most remember is the tremendous class pride you demonstrated throughout your years at our school. In addition to this collective accomplishment, many of you have earned individual honors through your academic work and/or with your specific involvement in a number of co-curricular activities. Each of these honors has brought pride and honor to your class as a whole, and we could not be more pleased.

Speaking for the entire Braintree High School faculty and staff, I would like to wish each of you all the success in the world.

May you bring pride to your family, our school, and our community, and may the wind be always at your back.

Sincerely,

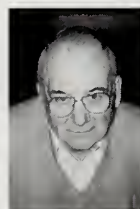

William S. Wassel
Headmaster

Meet Ms. Kelly, New Housemaster

When students arrived in September at Braintree High School, they were greeted by many new faces. A number of new teachers were hired this year, as well as a number of new administrators. With the enrollment at the high school growing to the largest it has been since the eighties, a new administrative position was created this year, filled by Ms. Suzanne Kelly.

The administration of the high school is set up differently from that of middle or elementary schools. The entire school is overseen by the headmaster, while students are divided into houses that are headed by housemasters.

Up until this year, there had been just two houses at BHS. To serve students better, a third house was added, creating an entirely new position for a third housemaster.

Ms. Kelly was hired as the third housemaster, taking over Mr. John Hurstak's role as housemaster of House 1 as he became the housemaster of the newly created House 3.

When asked what her initial thoughts of BHS were, she immediately replied that she thought it was a well ordered school, with an obvious climate for learning. Overall, she says that she found her experience at BHS to be very positive.

One of the biggest challenges she has faced is not knowing students on an individual basis. With her busy schedule as an administrator, there is little time for associating with students in an interacting atmosphere. She hopes that as the year goes on, she will have more opportunities for not only her to get to know the students, but also for them to get to know her. She also hopes that students will approach her with any concerns, difficulties or problems they may have.

According to Ms. Kelly, there are many things about BHS that make it unique from other schools. She believes it has a strong sense of pride and unity. And the students have reason to be proud: they consistently score well on SAT's, MCAS exams, and AP exams. In addition to its strong academic standing, BHS prides itself on its past, keeping traditions such as Homecoming going year after year.

Outside of BHS, Ms. Kelly has a variety of interests. She enjoys running, going to the gym, and bicycling. In fact, every Saturday morning at 6:30 for the past nine years she has cycled 30 miles with the same group of people. She also enjoys gardening and reading. Family is also important to Ms. Kelly and she enjoys spending time with her 20-year-old daughter and 17-year-old son. Her personal motto is "without risk there are no possibilities."

Her final words of advice to the students of BHS? "Think of goals because goals will give you direction and help you to reach other things." ~Kerri Milligan

Of

Retirement

In March of 1993, the former principal of Middleboro High School walked into Braintree High to assume the position of headmaster. He had worked at Middleboro for 12 years and seven years before that as the assistant principal of North Attleboro High School. His first jobs were teaching Biology and Earth Science at Natick and Walpole High Schools. For the last eight and a half years, Mr. William Wassel has come, seen, and conquered BHS by adding, restructuring, and nourishing. He is a true emblem of spirit and encouragement and a great asset to our school.

When he first came, Mr. Wassel took on the responsibility to change the school to what it is today. His first goal was to add more structure to the open campus life and instill more discipline, holding students more accountable for their actions. With the help of the faculty and the school committee, the school handbook was rewritten. He supported new security measures, which include video cameras and a security booth in the classical foyer. All these steps were taken to enhance the learning and social environment of the school. His main goal was to increase school spirit. He added a banner contest and a rally to the Homecoming spirit week. More subtly, but more importantly, Mr. Wassel has used, what he calls "character education" to promote positive qualities, such as honor, honesty, respect, and punctuality, in the students. Along with his encouragement, there are school banners that read, "Try Your Best," "Respect Others," and "Give Your Best Effort." Mr. Wassel has backed more activities for students to show off their wide variety of talents, such as the talent show, the lip sync, and the Mr. BHS contest.

Mr. Wassel wanted to increase communication between himself, the faculty, the students, the school, and the parents. "I want to be open so the students are able to talk to me," he said. Mr. Wassel has attended numerous activities, from athletic competitions to music concerts and theater performances, in order to cheer on the students' efforts. In the halls he can be seen congratulating a student for good grades or a senior for being accepted into college. In the past few years, the school has presented programs to address racial discrimination, drugs, alcohol, and other teen problems. He has tried to keep open lines of communication between himself and the faculty. He instituted "collegial conversations," where teachers can express their concerns about curriculum, classes, and their work. Also, Mr. Wassel has increased communication between the school and the parents. There have been numerous programs for parents dealing with teen concerns, and a more active PTO has been organized. He feels that the school is trying to make sure everyone, students, parents, and faculty, feels good about Braintree High School.

Mr. Wassel has pushed for upgrading the curriculum and adding new programs. He noticed the school lacked enough support for the at-risk population at BHS. At the time, there was only one alternative school, but there needed to be something else to include more students. Since then, School to Work, Aces, and the Archers programs have flourished, helping almost 100 students through high school. Also lacking was the number of Advanced Placement courses for level one students. Added to the original nine were Psychology, Computer Science, Chemistry, Statistics, Latin, Human Geography, and next year, Government. With the newly instituted state testing, MCAS strategies courses have also been developed. Mr. Wassel has supported the new Marketing and Video Tech classes. "These things, I know, are going to become massive," he explained. In addition, Mr. Wassel has been an advocate for making important school events more special. The National Honor Society Induction Ceremony, the Academic Awards Night, the Scholarship Night, and the Post-Graduation Party have been given new prominence. To honor more students at commencement, he increased the number of students speakers from two to four. All of these have added to the reputation of excellence that the Braintree High School family has worked hard to achieve.

"I have truly enjoyed my job," Mr. Wassel exclaimed. "Everyone should be proud of our school and community because it is a good one. I am proud to have been part of it for eight and a half years." After retirement, he plans on continuing to work as an educational consultant. He also wants to spend more time with his family. We are extremely grateful to have had Mr. Wassel as our headmaster. He has worked tirelessly to encourage the faculty and student body to aim for high goals, and he has set a good example on how to achieve them. As a personal last Wamps Call, Mr. Wassel said, "I hope people who have known me feel that I have made a difference." Well, Mr. Wassel, know that you have, and we thank you. We wish you good luck on all your future endeavors. —Melissa Goldman

cardinal knowledge

As students embarked on the 2000-2001 school year, they could not help but notice the new changes to their school. With two new courses, AP Human Geography and AP Art Portfolio, students had a wider variety of choices. Along with these classes, there were also 16 new faculty members, 4 new department directors, 5 extra support staff, and the appointment of Ms. Kelly, the new housemaster of House 1. ~Rachel Allen

A Rainbow of Opportunity

Senior year was a time when many seniors had to deal with one of the most important decisions of their lives; college. Thanks to the guidance department, that decision was made much easier by the college fairs that were held in the media center. During these 45 minute periods, students received information from colleges they were interested in, and also had the opportunity to speak with representatives from those colleges.

Many seniors had different reasons for wanting to go to college. Some wanted to experience life in a different location, while others wanted to gain a bit more independence. Most, however, saw the purpose of college as a way to get a good education. When asked how she viewed college, Bethany Toye said, "I see college as a way to secure my future." This was a common theme among seniors, as they looked towards the rainbow of opportunities available to them. ~Kate Tangney

A Whole New Light

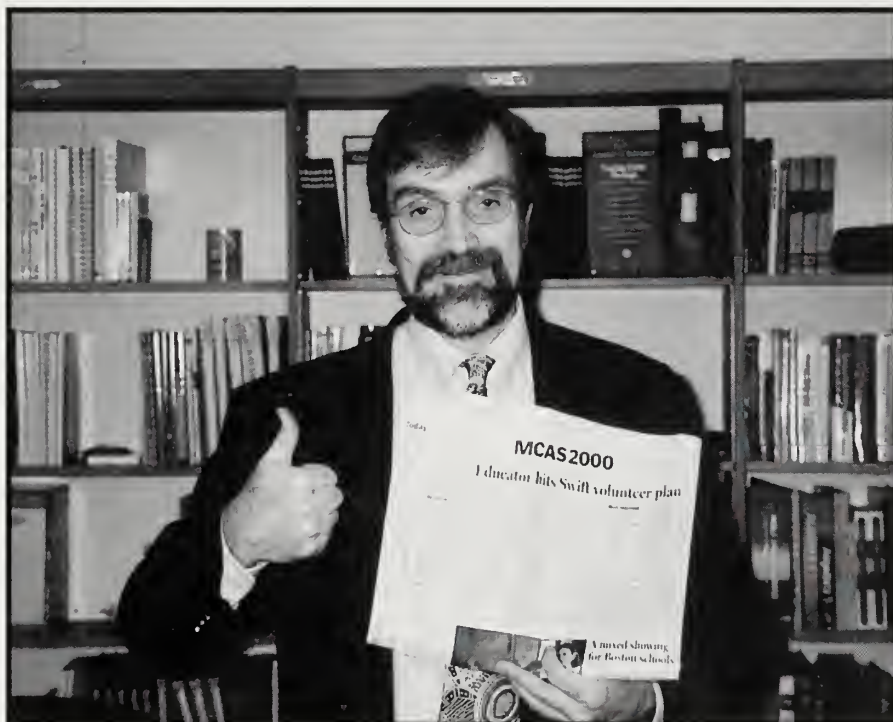

The eighth grade orientation provided a chance for eighth graders to get a glimpse of life at BHS in and out of school. Students representing clubs and sports set up tables, and spoke to next year's freshmen about each organization. "I think it lets them see the majesty of BHS in its entirety" explains Victor Tam, a junior who participated in the event. Other events included demonstrations by art students, and the chorus rehearsed a few numbers for parents and students. Overall, the night was a big success for the school and the up and coming freshmen. ~Kate Tangney

Red Hot Scores

It's been quite the year for Math in the Braintree school system. Since last May, this year's juniors have anxiously been awaiting the results of their MCAS test. They were the last class to take the exam that won't need to pass all three subjects to graduate. At the end of November when the results poured in, Dr. Kendall was ecstatic. He announced, "The teachers and students of grades 4, 8, and 10 worked very hard to get the amazing increases in the math scores of all 3 grades. The high school rise of 13 points, 16 % of the possible points, was extraordinary. The whole town should be very proud." ~R. Allen

VIDEO TECHIES MAKE NEWS

In the second year of the Video Technology class, the BHS news cast was well under way. The class worked in collaboration with Cablevision to produce a series of television news broadcasts, titled "After the Fact." Instructed by Mr. Denise, students in the the Video Tech class learned the behind-the-scenes work of a television show as well as how to act in front of the video camera. "It's probably the best class I've taken in high school!," declared senior Ryan Kenney.

Just like any regular class, students in Video Tech must take tests and turn in homework. However, this work was quite different. For each term, students must shoot an on-location film on a school event such as a football or basketball game. They must also do a studio broadcast and cover a Braintree town meeting. School and Work

.....

"School To Work" is a program at BHS and I'm proud to say that I am in it. "School to Work" is a program that helps kids who have had minimal success in mainstream classes.

The program stresses upon the importance of attitude, attendance and commitment in educational and work surroundings. Classes such as personal management, character education and School to Work itself helps build self confidence and teaches about life after high school.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays your skills and interests are put to the test when students in grades 10 - 12 go out on unpaid internships.

Although one is not always exposed to a lot of kids in his or her grade, one does form memorable and everlasting friendships. The teachers are more than nice. They are dedicated and interested in knowing what goes on in their students' lives, something I think is really good.

"School To Work" is an awesome program and I'm very fortunate to be part of it. ~Michelle DeCarlo

From all ANGLES

Although many BHS students have no idea about the Cultural Awareness Club, it has been in existence for eleven years. Originally named the Cultural Exchange Club, this after school activity was founded by Mrs. Noreen Sullivan in 1989 with the objective to "promote a better understanding and awareness of the different cultures and ethnic backgrounds in our school and community". At the same time, to help foreign students adjust to life in a new country.

Over the years, the club has helped many students along, foreign and native. CAC is based in Mrs. Sullivan's classroom and she has extended much hospitality to all. Her classroom is one of the biggest academic aides. Students may go there to study or store their books. Also, if you ever have a problem with homework, CAC is the place to go. There is always someone available for help. As you see, CAC isn't just another after school activity, it's a family.

What does this family do to carry out its objective? Well, over the years the club has developed some annual events and projects. The biggest project sponsored by CAC is the Annual International Foods Feast. Each year the club members bring in dishes representing their ethnicity. BHS Faculty are then invited to share in this cultural exchange. While faculty members enjoy the delicious food, a show consisting of many different cultural performances, such as dancing occur concurrently. CAC also participates in Team Harmony, a Christmas Party, a Secret Santa gift exchange, an end of year social to reward the members for their hard work.

Boy, its been a very busy and successful eleven years. And these are just a few of the highlights. CAC hopes to take their objective to a higher level in the upcoming years and involve more of the students at BHS. So, if you're interested, please, come to a meeting and join us in celebrating our heritage!

The Lip Sync contest was put on for the third year in a row by the BHS Student Council. Although the crowd was not the largest of years past, everyone present seemed to have a great time. This time Britney Spears was the most popular artist to mimic, along with Christina Aguilera, Macy Grey, Kiss, and even Alvin and the Chipmunks. Also different this year, was the creation of a second round. Groups would first perform their practiced lip-sync version, then, in the second round they had to pick another song to perform out of a hat. In the end, with a lot of talent, and a little bit of luck, the group of : Erin Molloy, Marissa Ruazol, Kerry Glennon and Kerri Sullivan won first place. ~C. Ciccolo

Lights, Camera, TALENT!!

The arts were thriving at the high school this year, with both the Theatre Guild and the Music Department extremely active. In the fall, the Theatre Guild presented its annual fall drama. Their production of On the Razzle, a bright and clever comedy by Tom Stoppard, delighted three appreciative audiences. Directed by Mr. P.A. Carey, the show depicted the adventures of a 1980's Austrian grocer and his two witty assistants during a fun-filled day in Vienna. On the Razzle was a tremendous success, and the guild's spring musical proved just as entertaining.

During this time, the Music Department was also hard at work. In the spring, the Chamber Singers and Orchestra presented their annual fall concert, performing Vivaldi's Gloria together. Along with other concerts, the band continued its tradition of performing for the crowds at each and every football game. All five groups- the Band, Jazz Band, Orchestra, Chamber Singers, and Concert Choir- held superb winter concerts. In April, these five groups will also travel to Philadelphia together to participate in a national competition. They have had an extremely successful year and will surely place well. ~Laura Eckelman Resolutions. Values. Criteria. Contentions. Subpoints. All of these terms are common lingo for the Braintree High School debate team, which succeeds in impressing judges and other debaters alike wherever it goes.

Indeed, while it provides a strong and formidable challenge for opponents while still in its infancy, the Braintree High School Lincoln-Douglas debate team shows potential to be a debate superpower in the future.

English teacher Michelle Fox, founder and coach of the debate team, is greatly responsible for its success. By providing encouragement and support for the team, as well as fighting to get team members to a highly competitive varsity level in its first year, she is the epitome of dedication.

"I want to provide students with the opportunity and the forum to express their opinions on current issues while helping to organize and rationalize their thoughts into coherent arguments," she said.

Providing a completely neutral environment, she allows the free flow of ideas for cases during meetings and plays a great role in the success of the debate team.

Members of the team are some of the most committed students Braintree High has to offer. Sacrificing much of their time, members take debate as an extracurricular activity even when they have already overinflated schedules crammed with AP and other demanding courses. When they would give up, team members keep going, desperately searching for the link between Rousseau's social contract and totalitarianism.

true blue

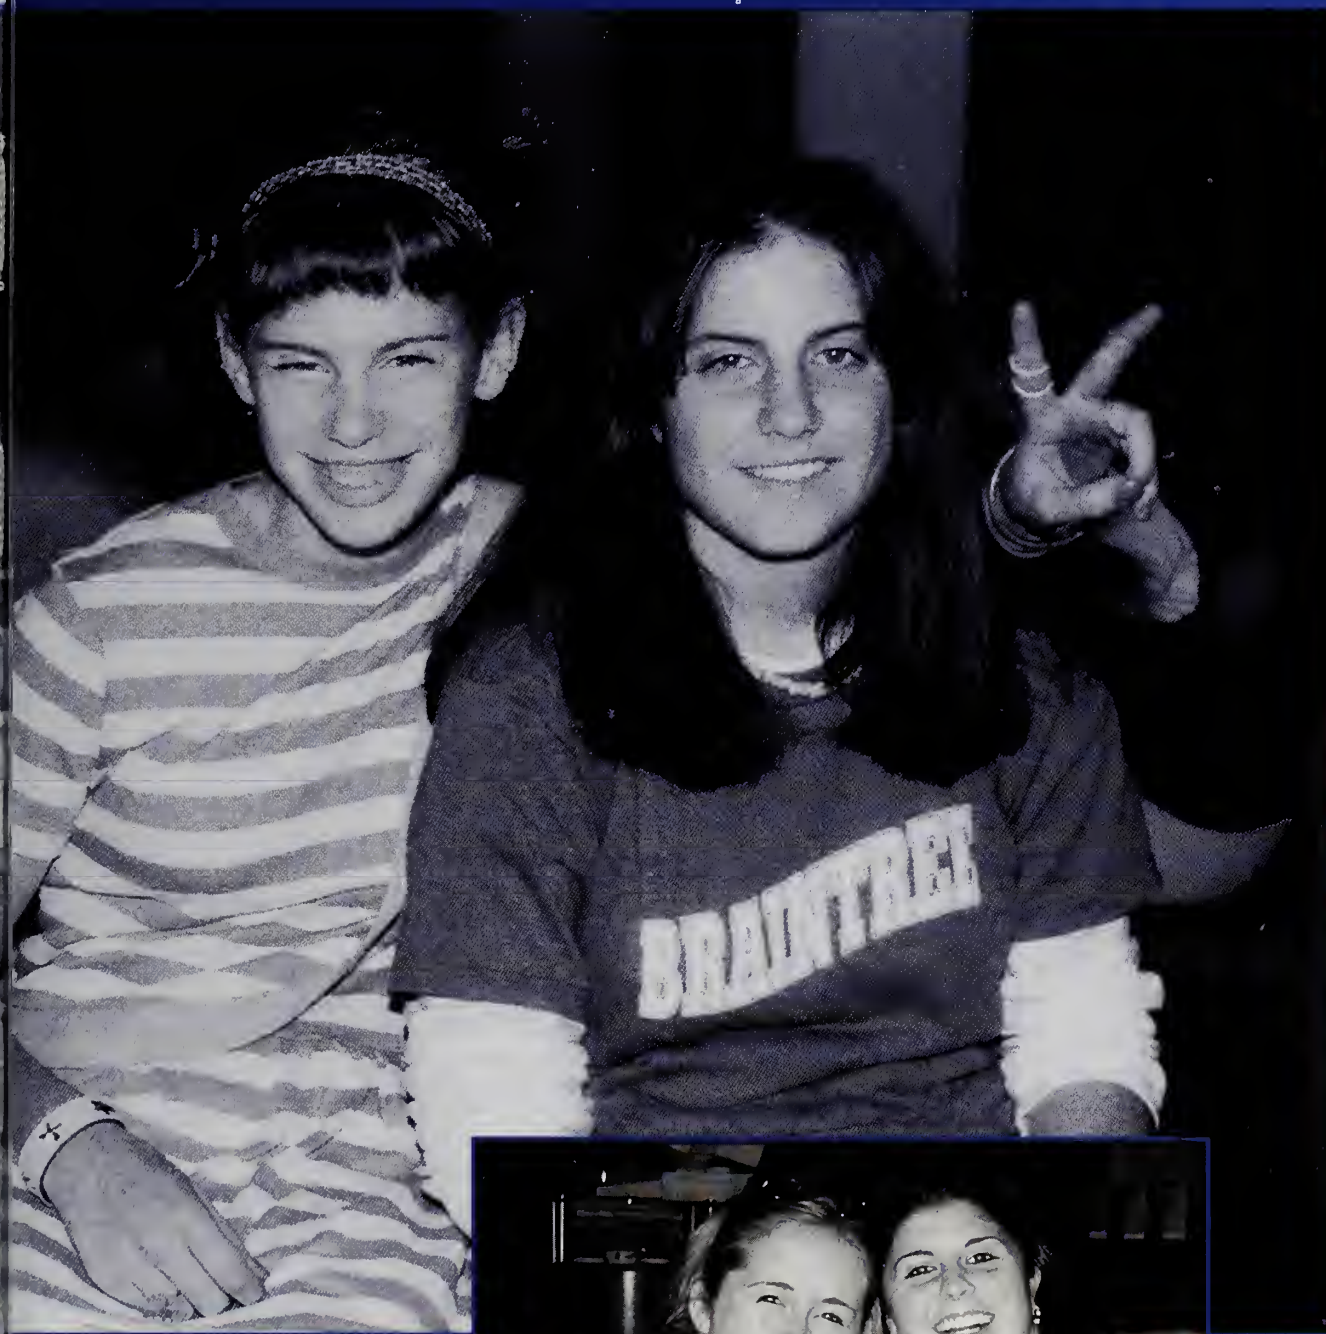

Obviously, not every student's life consists primarily of school. Homework, clubs, sports, extra-help sessions, and school organized activities, however, do take up a large piece of just about everyone's time. As a result, the weekend comes with mixed emotions. To relax from the hectic week or to go out and have fun? More and more students do not even have these options...they spend their weekends earning money at a part time job. In all, it is a delicate balance of work, school, and fun...still, students manage to make the most of their time! ~C. Ciccolo

Blending Color with Culture

For twelve days, during the month of August, Beijing, Guangzhou, and Shanghai were the homes of fifteen Braintree High School dance team members and cheerleaders. Kristen Cushing, Coleen Elstermeyer, Jamie Hale, Jennifer Kelly, Jackie Frazier, Jamie Marks, Kellie Marks, Valerie Marks, Stephanie O'Brien, Sara O'Connor, Genevieve O'Malley, Katie Romano, Erin Sullivan, Megan Tafe, and Amanda Wheeler were all part of the NBA Legends Tour in China along with other dance team members from Framingham High School. The girls were accompanied by coaches Patricia Hale and Joan Lane, Headmaster William Wassel and his wife, Lynne, teachers Sally Levy, Maura Mullane, Deborah McBride, and Joan Carroll and her husband Bob.

The group visited the Lama Temple, Tiananmen Square, and the Great Wall in Beijing, the Memorial Hall of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen and Yuxieu Park in Guangzhou, and the Bund, Wan Tan in Shanghai.

When the girls were not visiting all the famous sites, they were practicing or dancing at basketball games which were televised live on Chinese television stations. Out of the clear blue sky... comes summer

As the final bell of the school year rang on June 15, 2000, papers flew everywhere and the long awaited summer vacation began. For the first time all year students looked forward to a long break rather than a short two day weekend. Whether students spent their summer going to the beach, concerts, the movies, camp, traveling with their family or friends, or working at a part time job, everyone seemed to enjoy the freedom of the break.

Some upperclassmen spent their free time this summer preparing for their futures by visiting colleges and universities. Lauren Zopatti, Ashley Bessant and Kristin Webster spent a few days in Washington D.C. touring Georgetown University and American University. Many athletic teams spent either a few days or a week at camp working on new skills and techniques, getting in shape for the competitive season, or practicing new routines. While many students took it easy during the summer, some students remained close to home to work. Everyone needed a little extra spending money.

Well, the summer was fun while it lasted, but by the time September rolled around everyone was ready to buckle down and do some serious studying, right? Wrong! Just ask any of the hundreds of students who spent their summer vacation swimming, tanning, shopping, traveling, working, sleeping, or just hanging out. They only wished it was longer.

Blue in the Face

It all started with hat day on Monday, from the everyday baseball cap to the unusual sombrero, many students started the week showing off their spirit. Tuesday came next with a parade of pajama pants and robes to celebrate plaid day. It was sweatshirt and jeans day, however, that most became involved - especially the teachers. This year, because of a professional day on Friday, blue and white day was held on Thursday. Many students arrived completely covered in the school colors, some even sporting blue lipstick. Towards the end of the day everyone crowded into the gymnasium to attend the traditional pep rally for the Homecoming Game to be held Friday night. Here, the dance team and cheerleaders put on a brief show, captains were introduced, and the band played a few songs. Later, the junior class was collectively awarded the distinction of being "The Most Spirited." It was Mrs. Serge and seniors Jill Murray, Mike Donovan, and Allison Marini, though, that were individually named the coveted title, "Most Spirited". Jill Murray admitted afterward, "I love spirit week. I always do it. I love dressing up and being with everyone and having fun." ~C. Ciccolo

Can't Fight The Moonlight

After buying their tickets, signing the new activities contract, and finding just the right dress or suit, over 900 students ventured out into the cold and windy October night to attend the 2000 Homecoming Dance. Inside, not only was the gymnasium decorated with the "Can't Fight the Moonlight" theme, but also the school's foyer. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors alike were all walking in the clouds, represented by cotton balls, throughout the night (when not tripping or slipping on them).

During the dance Hillary Zaniboni and Brendan Butler entertained everyone with their musical talents. Hillary chose to Overall the dance was a huge success, according to most of the staff that attended. "The gym was packed yet everything went really smoothly. It seemed like the kids were genuinely enjoying themselves", claimed teacher and chaperone, Mrs. Carroll. On the other hand, the students' views of the dance were quite different. Many thought that it was not as enjoyable as previous years and that the music was unrecognizable. However, many like Brad Thompson, later admitted, "At first I wasn't going to go, but then I was glad I went."

Harmony & Diversity Add Color to the World

Team Harmony was an event that promoted diversity and a certain mutual understanding. For several years, Braintree High School has participated in Team Harmony, both as a way to enlighten students and to bring them together in the knowledge of their differences.

Past years' events at the Fleet Center, Boston have included visits from celebrities such as Mo Vaughn, Justin Timberlake, and various sports stars. This year was unique because of President Clinton's address to the participants via satellite. Several BHS students were specially chosen to go on stage and ask the president questions. Also via satellite, students from Northern Ireland and South Africa interacted with the participants on stage. This allowed them to compare social and cultural differences in reactions to prejudice. Other keynote speakers included the reigning Miss America, Angela Perez Baraquio, Barry and Elliott from Jordan's Furniture Co., and Boston Red Sox ace short-stop Nomar Garciaparra.

This year's events were unique for several reasons; Team Harmony VII was dedicated to the memory of Lenny Zakim, co-founder of Team Harmony, who died shortly after last year's ceremony. In addition, television Channel 56 accompanied Braintree High students to the Holocaust Memorial before the show and on the bus ride to the Fleet Center. Several students were featured in a WB special presentation highlighting the show.

FALLING INTO THE GAP

High School is a place where many people express themselves through their clothing style. Some chose to wear the generic jeans and t-shirt, while others put a new spin on old ideas, with bandanas and bellbottoms coming back into style. Still others chose clothes which defy any label at all, thus expressing their own individual colors.

Along with these basic styles, came accessories. Many of the guys could be seen wearing baseball caps, while the girls sported distinctive jewelry, or hair accessories to set themselves apart from the crowd. In addition to this, shoes were an important indicator of style, as quite a few girls owned funky shoes. A few popular brands included such names as Abercrombie and Fitch, Old Navy, The Gap, and Banana Republic. ~Kate Tangney

Sports go for the gold

"Each swimmer improved her personal best time with every meet," said newly-formed swim team member Rachel Allen. Improvement seemed to be the theme of most of the teams this year. The football team improved their total wins by 3 over last year's mark with new head coach David Swanton. The volleyball team returned to tournament play under new coach Kristi Norrman while the ice hockey team rallied with new head coach Dave Fasano. Both cross country teams drastically improved this year with sophomore Kelley Heffernan leading the way. All in all it was a year in which all the teams went for the gold. ~R. Kenney

Going for the WIN

After last year's 0-11 season the Wamp football team made some serious changes. Immediately after being named head coach, Mr. Dave Swanton established a new work ethic for the team. They began weight training in March and worked on their skills with their position coaches. During the summer, defensive coordinator and lacrosse coach Mr. Tosone began a five-times per week conditioning and lifting program. It involved everything from squats to aerobic sessions. Captain Tom Lynch expressed the views of many of his teammates when he said "It was tough getting up every morning to lift but it brought the team closer together and made us stronger." The team's hard work paid off in its dramatic four-overtime victory over visiting Dedham in their season opener. Many of the coaches proclaimed that it was the best game they had ever been a part of. The NFL recognized the team by naming Coach Swanton "Coach of the Week". Mike Lynch from Channel Five also ran a piece about them on his weekly High Five spot. Two weeks after their battle with Dedham the team traveled to Natick and spoiled Doug Flutie's retirement night by beating them 33-26. Next came some heart breaking losses to Newton North, Walpole, Framingham, and Wellesley. Instead of packing it in for the remainder of the season the Wamps kept working hard and beat a surging Weymouth team in front of a packed house on Homecoming night to cap off an amazing week. The team ended the season with hard fought games to good teams but lost both of them by seven points. Coach Swanton said that those two games pretty much told the story of the season; the team is talented enough but just needs to learn how to win.

The cheerleading team had a record breaking and award winning fall season. They started off with a bang this past summer at cheerleading camp. The team took first place in the extreme routine, first place in the cheer competition, and first place in the home pom routine. Nicole Randall, a sophomore, was crowned Jump Queen in the annual jump off competition.

After camp, the girls started to buckle down and focus on the upcoming competition season. In the Shepard Hill Invitational Competition, they placed first in Division One and received the highest score out of all the other divisions. They came in third place in the Bay State League Competition which qualified them for the regionals the following weekend. Their second place victory at regionals qualified them for the state competition. At States, the girls received a score of 242.5 and a bid to compete in the National Competition in Florida. This is the first time Braintree High School cheerleaders have ever earned a national bid.

On February 8, the team packed their bags and departed for Orlando, Florida. They spent the next few days practicing for the competition at Disney's Wide World of Sports Complex.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Boys soccer practice started promptly at 2:30 p.m. every day with captains Scott Opie and Shawn Cassidy leading the team in a lap and stretch session. After they were all warmed up they'd go over basic skills or scrimmage one another. Many of the players' favorite drill was the cage matches. In a cage match there were two teams made up of three players playing in a fifteen-foot area enclosed by two goals. As for this year's double sessions - "They were easy because by your senior year you're used to them" said captain Scott Opie. It seems the hardest part of the boys' soccer practices would be keeping their eyes off the girls soccer team. ~R. Kenney

AS GOOD AS GOLD

The girls soccer team had a tremendous year led by All-Stars Katie Carroll, Kristen Webster, Marisa Volpe, Katie McFarland, and Liz O'Day. They played hard all season and worked as a team to get to the tournament once again. Coach Marks even said, "They might not have been the most tal-

LADY WAMPS DIG FOR THE GOLD

The girls volleyball team stormed back in impressive fashion from last year's disappointing season. Led by new head coach Krissy Norrman the girls made it back to tournament play this year. DIVING INTO A SPLASH OF COLOR

This was the inaugural season for the Lady Wamps swim team. Although they didn't come up with a victory they were in most meets and the future appears bright as many underclassmen got the experience they needed to compete next year. Junior Rachel Allen said, "Coming in this year many girls didn't really know much about swimming, but they do now and we should be better next year." Rachel and Captain Lindsay Metcalfe were named to the Bay State Conference All Star team. The season ended as the girls placed ninth out of eleven teams at the conference championships.

HITTING THE MATS

The girls and boys gymnastic squads both had some success this winter, with the girls having one of their best seasons in recent memory. Led by senior captain Christine O'Hara the girls were vaulting and flipping like never before. Christine finished first or second in almost every event imaginable during the year, but also got some help from juniors Sara Connell and Gina Dinardo. The boys were led once again by sophomore Greg Monaco. Over on the wrestling mats there was a changing of the guard with new coaches Matt Wassel and Greg Ranieri. The wrestlers responded with a great season as a team, the most noticeable stars were Eugene Hendrix, Tim Menz, the Vo's, and Mike Rogan. ~R. Kenney

HOOPFUL EXPECTATIONS

Many wondered how this year's team would respond to losing some of last year's talented seniors, but the additions of Jim Sampson, Matt Ghiloni, Scott Opie, and a plethora of sophomores have more than filled the void. When you add the six returning members from last year's team and the great coaching of Bob Crook, the boys were a force to be reckoned with in the Bay State Conference. An example of their resiliency and determination to win can be found in a home game early in the season versus Needham. With junior Dan Alcott down due to an ankle injury, the boys started the game missing one of their dependable stars. It showed early with the score 15-1 after the first few minutes. But people like Dave Crowe and Pat Goff stepped it up a notch along with Chris Emma to rally their team back. After some clutch "threes" at the end of the half by Jon Moore, the boys went into halftime down by only six. In the second half the boys "came out like a house on fire and dominated the boards" said senior Scott Opie. After Chris Emma tied the game with his free throws, the game went into OT. The game was in limbo the whole period but the young Jon Hepburn sealed the victory with 1.9 seconds remaining on the clock, sinking two clutch free throws to put the Wamps up by two. The team will miss the four graduating seniors from this year, but with eight solid members returning next year, the team will have a serious shot at the title.

Shooting Stars

The girls had an extremely successful season this year with a regular season record of 18-3. They were led by superstars Elena Papile and Jade Leitao. Both Jade and Elena reached a number of milestones this year, including scoring 1000 points for their career this season and were also named to the Bay State League All Star team, along with junior Sam Curry. In addition to that honor Jade also received MVP of the league and will head for the University of Delaware to become the first Wamp to play for a Division 1 women's basketball program. One of the highlights of the season for the girls was defeating Norwell and ending their 20 game winning streak to win the Hall of Fame tournament at Massasoit Community College. The girls were rewarded for their phenomenal season by earning a number three seed in this year's sectionals. ~R. Kenney

RECORD SETTING PACE

The indoor track season didn't exactly meet expectations this winter, although there were plenty of high lights. There were several records broken during the season, including Kelley Heffernan's smashing of the school's mile and 2-mile records. Catherine Ciccolo also broke the indoor record of 5'3" in the high jump. The boys had a little more team success than the girls, with everyone contributing to some key victories throughout the season. The presence of Mike Benner, Tim Connors, and Matthew "Moose" Morris contributed to the team this year in the shot put circle. The team will miss those three seniors as well as Mattie McGuire and Mike Donovan next year but their young crop of runners will hold it down and have some success of their own in the upcoming years.

The Wamps hockey team started off slow, but came on stronger as the season progressed. Goalie John Liston has lead the team to victory with three shutouts in five games. The team went on a four game winning streak beating Needham and Framingham. However, the streak came to an end when the Wamps faced a tough Weymouth squad. Next year's Ice Hockey team should be strong, many players will be returning. Still, they will have to do without graduating seniors; Anthony Barese, Sean Lynch, Derek Hadley, Mark O'Neil, and Brian McCaffery.

COMMUNITY LIFE

the emerald city

The community of Braintree was impacted by several changes and events.

First of all, former principal of Sharon High School, Dr. Susan Dukess was appointed the position of Assistant Superintendent of Schools, which was previously held by Mr. T. Michael Molongoski.

Secondly, students from the Project Prove Program met with Boston Red Sox ace pitcher Pedro Martinez this past September after the Braintree Buddies program won first place in the Fleet Bank All-Stars program. "He was a nice guy," said Matt Kardok after meeting Pedro.

And finally, right after the presidential election, a distinguished speaker, Thomas Finneran, spoke to one of Mr. Walsh's American Government classes on issues such as the MCAS tests, the 2000 Presidential election, and campaign finance reforms.

Most people dream of having the ultimate trophy in this life time. They race with time and maybe never receive anything then they are left empty.

But you, my daughter, are my ultimate trophy.

I did not need to compete to win you.

God gave you to me.

The best gift of all.

My number one prize.

A Rainbow of Memories

As one more year ends, students look back on their experiences during the 2000-2001 school year. It has been a year of changes, including several major retirements, namely Headmaster William Wassel, and even more new teachers. New directors initiated changes, including Domino's Pizza being sold in the cafeteria, and a shutting down of the drink machines during lunch. On a grander scale, this year welcomed in a new millennium, as well as a new president.

Overall, it was a year which combined beginnings and endings exquisitely, in a way which allowed students to cherish the memories they have earned at BHS, while still looking forward to the future. As seniors prepare to leave the halls one last time, they might pause to reflect over times with friends, classes, extracurricular activities, and sports events. These memories contest to what most already know; Braintree High was an experience not easily forgotten. ~Kate Tangney

Déjà vu, déjà Vécut!

Winter Carnival in Quebec City is one of the most exciting experiences in the Province. From February 1 to 4, 2001, roughly 25 students in all French levels traveled to the Winter Wonderland in Canada. Places visited include the Chateau Frontenac in Old Quebec City, Village des Sports, and the ever popular Cabine A Sucre, where we participated in an old fashioned taffy pull. We also had a traditional French breakfast, with a bowl of "chocolat chaud" and a croissant. Overall, the food was great, the language was fun, and everyone had "une voyage excellente!" ~R. Allen

On their last night in Quebec, the French students traveled to a "Cabine A Sucre," a place where maple syrup is made. After tasting a meal covered in the sweet syrup, Rachel Allen, Leah Contrino, Lindsay Metcalfe, Tom Annino, and their tour guide belt out "Summer Loving" from Grease. ~R. Allen

A Night to Remember

On June 1, 2001, 435 seniors and friends arrived at the Lake Pearl Ballroom in Wrentham, Massachusetts. Limos, party vans, and cars carried these enthusiastic students to their one and only Senior Prom, and chaperones with $20 bills anxiously awaited their arrival.

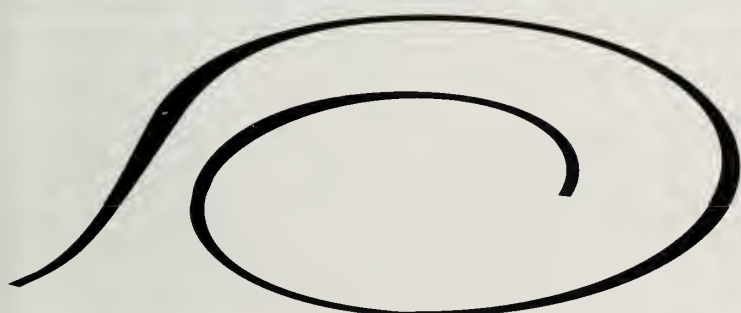

After hours of preparation and days of planning, everyone was excited - even the adults. Enthusiastic friends greeted each other with big smiles and hugs as everyone prepared for pictures and dinner. Although appetizers were served in the ballroom, many couples ventured outside to take group pictures in front of the water or enjoy the breathtaking view. Before long, everyone was seated and served a healthy portion of chicken parmesan over ziti.

After everyone had been able to meet, greet, and eat, the dancing began. From eight p.m. until midnight, seniors danced the night away to the R&B, rap, and the other dance music played by the house DJ. Eventually, everyone was called to the dance floor for the prom song, Eve 6's Here's to the Night.

After a night of dining and dancing, party-goers left the beautiful ballroom for Braintree, Boston, or even the Cape. The festivities continued all night long for most seniors, some of whom had been awake early that morning for final exams. In the end, all went smoothly and the Senior Prom was truly a night to remember. ~Laura Eckelman

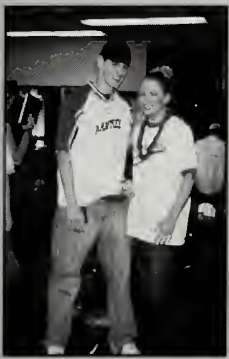

SHOWING THEIR LAST TRUE COLORS...

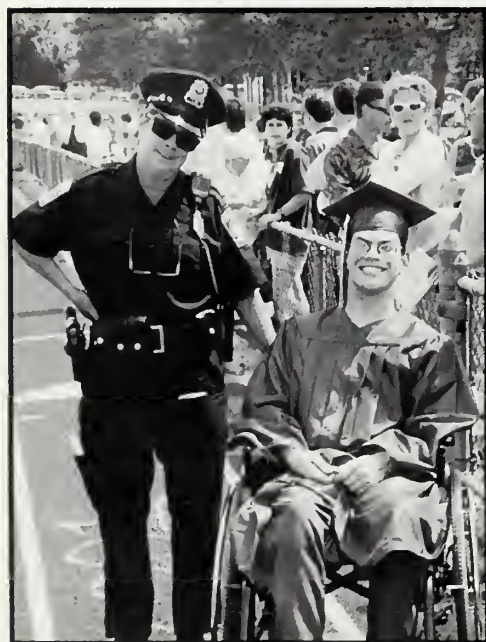

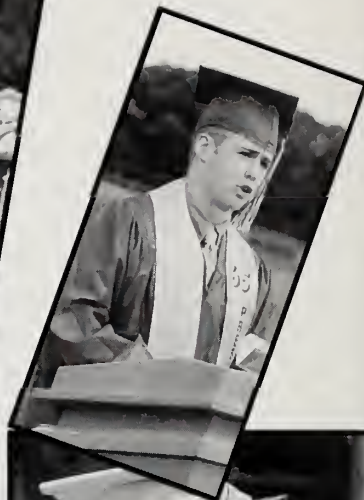

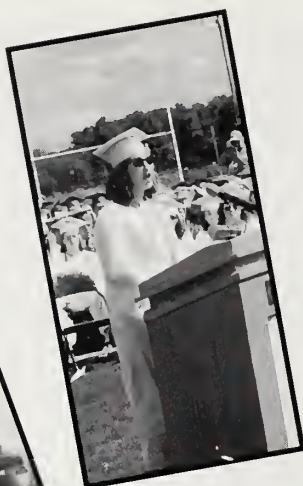

I'm a "SENIOR!"

THE SENIOR BREAKFAST

Sea of Blue and White

On June 9, 312 BHS seniors sat proudly in their gowns creating a sea of blue and white. They listened to music, speeches, and praises recalling past school events, hard work, and good times with friends. Everyone was very proud and excited, even a little relieved, as they waited to receive their diplomas, marking the end to a 13-year journey from kindergarten through high school.

Mr. Wassel declared that this class was "truly special." He was very grateful of the class' kindness as both he and they spent their last days at BHS. Dr. Kurzberg remarked that Mr. Wassel was a true asset to the school and we are thankful of all his time and support. The class gave him a standing ovation, for this was his graduation too. Mr. Wassel gave additional awards to Brad Thompson, Christina Curry, and Laura Eckelman for their efforts in school activities and dedication to BHS.

The class listened to the advice and knowledge of their class leaders. Ryan Kenney, the senior class president, said that humor is an important component in our lives. Humor is a way of self expression and it can help one get through the hard times and make the exciting times much more memorable. Christina Curry, the student council president, said that "now is a present," and one should cherish every moment of one's life. Salutatorian Thuy Dang said that everyone should travel as close to the water's edge as they can. That way, one can see the true beauty of life and explore life's mysterious ways and answer life's questions. Valedictorian Susie Jabaily questioned why academic honors set the standard for success. She said that everyone is successful. Everyone has their own talent, their own passion, which makes life successful. She reminded everyone that while she had a cord and a special sash marking her academic honor, she herself did not even have her driver's license.

Each received their diplomas with a big smile and a firm handshake. Mr. Wassel asked them to move their tassels to the other side of their cap and they were done. They were now graduates of the Class of 2001. Congratulations!
~Melissa Goldman

Volume #59 of the Wampatuck was published in a limited edition of 375 copies with 160 pages in the spring book, 32 pages of which were in color. An additional 16 page supplement which covered activities and events that occurred after the February deadline were delivered in the fall. The books were printed by Herff Jones, 525 Boyds School Road, Gettysburg, PA, 17325. Mr. John Carrier was the yearbook representative.

The cost of the edition was approximately $25,000.00 to publish. Individual copies were sold for $45 prior to December 1. Name stamping was available at an extra $3 cost.

The cover was designed by plant artists. It was produced using a four-color litho process. Finished pages were submitted to the publisher on zip disks. Page layout was done by using Adobe Pagemaker 6.5 on Hewlett Packard computers and printers. Copy was written in Futura Bk Bt and Papyrus fonts using Microsoft Word.

Senior portraits and photography was handled by McGrath Studios, 8 Elm St., Braintree, MA, 02184. Underclass portraits were done by MacLean Stevens Studios, 3 North Spring St., Concord, NH, 03301. McGrath Studios also provided candids for each section.

Kate Tangney and Laura Eckelman were the editors-in-chief. Kimberly Olson was the photo and design editor. Laura Eckelman was the copy editor. Mrs. Noreen Sullivan was the faculty advisor. Sections were produced by the following students: Kate Tangney and Adam Carll - PEOPLE, Rachel Allen - ACADEMICS, Chia-Yu Chang - CLUBS/ORGANIZATIONS, Catherine Ciccolo and Meghan McEttrick - STUDENT LIFE, Ryan Kenney - SPORTS, Carolyn Meda and Melissa Goldman - COMMUNITY LIFE/BUSINESS.
